TIENTSIN POLICE CRISIS.

British Force Problem.

Chinese Officers Resign.

STRIKE THREAT.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Aug. 4.
The Municipal Council of the British Concession in Tientsin are threatened with a serious breakdown in the policing arrangements. Every Chinese officer of the Concession Police Force (and they outnumber the British officers considerably) has tendered his resignation, the action being carried out en bloc.

The Chinese rank and file are being talked to by the originators of the "protest" and a strike is anticipated.

The trouble has arisen from the appointment of a British ex-army officer as the Superintendent of the Force.

Mr. Chang Duo-hung, B.A., who has been the Commissioner or Chief Constable of the Force for some time past, recently tendered his resignation. The British Municipal Council a few days ago announced that a British ex-officer had been appointed as Superintendent.

Mr. Chang and the Chinese members of the Council (J. S. Chang, Vice-Chairman, Z. S. Hien, S. M. Chang, K. C. Hu and L. K. Liang) disapproved of the appointment, partly because they were of the opinion that it should have been given to a Chinese.

No heed has been paid to their complaints, however, and it is alleged that when the Superintendent assumed his post he refused to obey certain of Mr. Chang's orders.

It is claimed that the Superintendent is anti-Chinese.

Ratepayers Meeting.

The Chinese Ratepayers' Association are meeting in Tientsin to-day and it is expected that they will pass a resolution of protest. The Superintendent has assumed charge of the Police.

It is interesting to note for some little time past, Mr. F. Isenberger, C.B.E. has been performing a special duty under the Council having reference to the administration of the Police Department.

Chinese in High Posts.

Hitherto, three Chinese have been in control of the Executive Department of the Police Force, and Chief Inspector P. J. Lawless has been the senior British officer, having charge of the Administrative Department of the Force, with a number of Chinese subordinates.

UNWANTED GUEST.

EUGENE CHEN GIVEN MARCHING ORDERS.

Tokyo, Aug. 4.
It is learned that in conformity with Japan's policy of non-interference in Chinese internal politics, the Japanese Government has given Mr. Eugene Chen, the Foreign Minister of the Canton Government, ten days in which to leave Japan.

The ten days are to be reckoned from July 23, and he has only three days in which to comply with the order.—Reuter.

TRIBE WARFARE IN AFRICA.

REGENT'S KRAAL ATTACKED.

GRIM SLAUGHTER

Capetown, Aug. 3.
Another serious tribal war is threatened in the Union, this time in Pietermaritzburg, Natal, where several thousand natives are already engaged in fierce tribal fighting.

It is believed that many lives have been lost.

The outbreak is reported to be due to the development of strife between the Pretender to the Regency of the Masinga Location, and the followers of the lawful Regent.

The body of the Pretender's uncle was found in the bush covered with assegai wounds, upon which the supporters of the Pretender rallied together and an impl of about two thousand warriors, who invaded the Regent's kraal.

The Regent was, however, well prepared for the assault, and the raiders were completely routed in some ferocious fighting, in which hundreds of lives must have been lost.—Reuter.

MACHINE-GUNS FOR CHINA.

PLOT UNEARTHED IN FRISCO.

San Francisco, July 30.
Police today were investigating reports originating in Chinatown of a plot to ship machine guns and other munitions to the Philippines for reshipment to China.

It was understood that the Justice Department was advised of the plan and that the plot would not be consummated.

SOCONY & VACUUM OIL MERGER.

PLAN APPROVED BY SHAREHOLDERS.

New York, July 30.
The stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of New York and of the Vacuum Oil Company to-day approved a merger of the two concerns.

A billion-dollar company to be known as the Standard Oil Company of New York-Vacuum Corporation will be formed.

TWO TYPHOONS.

The Royal Observatory reports that the typhoon is about 300 miles east of the Bashi Channel, moving slowly westward. Depressions are shown to the east of Tourane and to the west of Mindoro.

The Manila Observatory, reporting at 9.30 a.m., reports a typhoon in about 127° Long. E. and 16° Lat. N., inclining northward.

THE CANTERBURY FESTIVAL.

FREEMAN'S "BAG."

London, Aug. 3.
Coincident with the return to form of "Tich" Freeman, Kent are on the up-grade once again, the Hop County obtaining an easy victory in the first match of the Canterbury Festival. Freeman returned the remarkably fine figures of fifteen wickets for 94 runs, and Kent defeated Somerset by eight wickets.

Somerset won the toss and elected to take first knock, but it served them with no advantage, the side being dismissed for 122 runs. Freeman took 7 wickets for 59 runs.

Kent secured a lead on the first innings of a bare 23 runs. Andrews bowling well, rarely included in the Somerset side, he took 5 wickets for 52 runs.

The prospect of a fairly keen struggle in the second innings did not materialise. Somerset collapsed before the skilful bowling of Freeman, the Emperor of slow bowlers. He claimed eight of their wickets and conceded only 35 runs. The innings closed at 67.

Needing 46 runs to win, Kent obtained 48 for the loss of two wickets.—Reuter.

FORD CO. TO CEASE MANUFACTURE.

TEMPORARY SHUT-DOWN OF WORKS.

Detroit, July 30.
The Ford Motors Company officially announced to-day that the plant here will cease manufacturing on Friday, but will resume operations some time in August.

The work of assembling will continue. The number of workers affected was not announced.

Mollison Sets Hot Pace.

At Basra in Four Days, 17 Hours.

RECORD IN SIGHT.

Basra, Aug. 3.
Mr. A. J. Mollison, the Australian air-mail pilot, who is engaged on a flight from Australia in an attempt to lower the record of eleven days set by Mr. C. W. A. Scott in June last, arrived at Basra from Karachi at 6.20 p.m.

Mollison, who is a flier of considerable experience, having over 2,500 flying hours to his credit, is taking off again at midnight for Athens and he hopes to reach London on Wednesday.

He is now considerably ahead of Scott's record, and there is a strong probability that he will not only beat it by a very wide margin, but also better the time set up by Scott for the outward journey, namely 9 days, 3 hours.

Mollison left Wyndham, Australia, at 1 a.m. on July 29, on the following day he was in Singapore, and on the first of August he arrived at Rangoon. In two days he has not only completed the crossing of India, landing at Calcutta and Karachi, but is now at Basra, with the heaviest part of his journey completed.

The long trip to Athens will provide another severe test, but after that it will be plain sailing. Should he succeed in his ambition to reach England on Wednesday, he will have completed the journey in less than eight days. July 23, the day of his departure, was also a Wednesday. Thus he will have lowered Scott's record for the inward journey by more than three days, and beaten, relatively, the record for the outward journey by more than a day.—Reuter.

THE PUBLIC GARDENS MYSTERY.

MR. O'SULLIVAN.

Presumption of Death.

DISAPPEARANCE LAST YEAR.

The mysterious disappearance fifteen months ago of Mr. Thomas Francis O'Sullivan, formerly acting head bailiff of the Supreme Court, was recalled this morning before the Chief Justice (Sir Joseph Kemp) when an application was made on behalf of his wife for an order for probate of the will. The application was granted.

Mr. F. C. Jenkin, (instructed by Mr. M. M. Watson, of Messrs. Deacons) who applied for the order, said affidavits had been filed in support by Mrs. O'Sullivan, Mr. T. Murphy, A.S.P., and Dr. T. W. Ware, of the Government Medical Department.

With regard to Mrs. O'Sullivan's affidavit, it was to the effect that her husband became mentally affected in May, 1927, and was placed in the care of Dr. Ware at the Government Civil Hospital. He recovered sufficiently to be allowed to return home in February, 1929, but, because his illness had impaired his sight, he could not go out unless he was accompanied by someone.

On May 8, 1930, he went out for a walk in the company of his daughter, Maureen, who was then six years of age. Leaving the house at 4 p.m. they visited some friends at St. Joseph's College and, on the return journey, they sat down in the Public Gardens, where the young girl amused herself by feeding birds. When she looked round, she found her father had disappeared, and was in much distress when unable to find him. Two ladies eventually took her home. A search was immediately instituted by members of the family and friends, but they failed to find any trace of the missing man, and the matter was reported to the police.

Counsel went on to deal with Mr. Murphy's affidavit, which set out the steps taken by the police. The report was received at about eight o'clock on the evening of May 8. Directions were given to police going on duty to keep a sharp look-out for Mr. O'Sullivan. They were also given a description of him.

Rewards Offered.
After commenting that Mr. O'Sullivan had lived in Hongkong for over 20 years, and, as a bailiff, was very well-known, both to Europeans and Chinese, counsel stated that the police also made a search around the hills in the neighbourhood of the Gardens and all over the Colony for two days, but without result.

A notice regarding Mr. O'Sullivan's disappearance was published in the South China Morning Post and a Chinese paper on May 14, telling the story of his disappearance and giving a photograph, together with an offer of a reward of $200 for information as to his whereabouts. An official offer by the Government of $200 reward for Mr. O'Sullivan, dead or alive, was also made; but again there was no result.

LINDY IN THE ARCTIC ZONE.

HAZARDOUS FLIGHT.

MILES OF COLD DESOLATION.

Churchill, Aug. 3.
Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh are including some strange out of the way places in the preliminary stages of their flight to the Far East. To-day they set out from Churchill (on the great Hudson Bay) for Baker Lake, a lonely fur-trading station in the extreme North-West Territories, and almost on the Arctic Circle.

The population of Baker Lake, a small township on a lake of the same name, consists chiefly of Eskimos, with only about a dozen whites. The majority of the inhabitants have never seen an aeroplane in their lives. In the fast Lockheed-Vega machine which Col. Lindbergh is flying, they will see one of the finest developments in aircraft.

"I would rather be in a plane than anywhere. I feel safe with my big boy, Charlie, at the controls," said Mrs. Lindbergh, before leaving Churchill.

The next stage of their flight after Baker Lake, is to Aklavik, near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, well above the Arctic Circle, and less than fifteen hundred miles from the North Pole.

Uninhabited Regions.
Their journey will take them over practically uninhabited desolate country for eleven hundred miles, in a nonstop flight.

The trip from Lake Baker to Aklavik is regarded as the most hazardous portion of the whole of the projected flight. The Lindberghs' radio apparatus has been tuned in to the Government Radio Stations to enable the famous flier to give an hourly bulletin of his progress.—Reuter's American Service.

SECOND ATTEMPT FAILS.

ROBBINS FORCED TO LAND.

New York, Aug. 3.
It is announced in a message from Fairbanks, Alaska, that the second attempt of Reginald Robbins and H. S. Jones, to win the $5,000 prize offered by the United States to Japan, has failed.

The airmen were forced to land at Fairbanks owing to a difficulty in refueling in the air.—Reuter's American Service.

as to his whereabouts. An official offer by the Government of $200 reward for Mr. O'Sullivan, dead or alive, was also made; but again there was no result.

WHAT IS HAN FU-CHU'S AIM AND OBJECT?

CONCENTRATING TROOPS IN ONE AREA.

Shanghai, Aug. 4.
Military manoeuvres by General Han Fu-chu in southern Shantung, the arrival there yesterday of large contingents of troops from Tsinan-tu and eastern Shantung, and his order to withdraw certain troops at Tschow to Yenchow have caused uneasiness at Haichow, where the Nanking command have proclaimed martial law. Considerable troops movements took place last evening along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway.—Reuter.

Run over by a Chinese Company motor-bus, Wong Chee (28), 21-year-old, living at 111, Pottinger Street, Kowloon, died on Sunday.

MOTOR CYCLE TRIAL.

THIRTY RIDERS COMPLETE
COURSE.

SOME SPILLS.

Yesterday, forty-three competitors took part in the Bank Holiday Motor Cycle Reliability Trial.

P. O. Marshall, riding a Triumph, skidded at Taikeo Sanatorium Path, and was hurled from his machine to some bushes thirty feet below the roadway. He escaped with bruises and a severe shaking, and continued to finish the third lap of the trial.
His cycle, by some inexplicable means, managed to become wedged in between two small trees and was held fast, while Mr. Marshall was thrown over the handlebars, and fortunately the shrubbery broke the force of his considerable drop.

G. W. Brand had a somewhat unpleasant experience, a coolie carrying wood stepping in front of his machine as he reached the hairpin bend at Aberdeen on the second lap. The cyclist was forced to run into a gate, which he smashed, and his cycle then ran down some steps. He was rather shaken up and slightly cut, while the cycle was battered and bent. But he managed to repair it sufficiently to restart, and eventually completed the whole trial.

There were plenty of minor, but quite spectacular spills on the Peak Road above Scott's Corner. W.B.
Wishaw broke his clutch wire at the point, but effected a repair. Later, while Segalen had a puncture, the effect of which was to throw him over, with the machine on top of him. He rolled towards an embankment, and only a tree saved him from falling into a garden several feet below the roadway.

G. A. Carruthers, suffering an overheated engine at Leith Road, which caused his lights to fall, while G. H. V.
Ribeiro was pulled up by an early puncture, which took him 35 minutes to mend, and caused him to abandon the trial.

One of the first competitors to experience a tumble was A. A. Gascon, riding a Harley Davidson, but he quickly recovered and completed the course.

A Severe Test.

The severest test of all was at the Taikeo Sanatorium Path, and Wong-meichong Gap, where the recent typhoon had left big pot-holes in the narrow pass. J. Dewry had very bad luck at this point, when, after riding with clever judgment, and at a time when he was going very strongly, he had a puncture in his rear tyre. The jolt sent him head over heels across the handlebars, and prevented him from making the full course.

Several competitors lost their way.
A. Giel missing the first part of the second lap, and, later, having a spill which broke his headlamp.
The first rider to come to permanent grief was O. A. Carvalho, whose machine failed when at Aberdeen, and at the same spot, W. B. Wishaw's gear snapped.

A report that three St. John Ambulance Brigade men, taken to the Rider to the Government Civil Hospital, in a very serious condition, was later found to be untrue, and actually there were no casualties.

A large crowd watched the start from the Murray Parade Ground, which was made promptly at 2.30 p.m.
B. S. Rogers (A.J.S.) was the first to depart, being followed at two-minute intervals by T. H. Chun (H.
Davidson), O. A. Carvalho (Raleigh),
P. A. Silva (B.S.A.), G.H.V. Ribeiro
(B.S.A.), J. Smith (Humber), P.M.F.

(B.S.A.), E. J. Groome (Excelsior),
L. Smith (F.P.N.), and G. A. Carruthers and E. Frank (post entries).

A Long Course.

The trial, over a distance of 106½ miles (approximately), was broken into four laps, including two restarts.

DANISH OCEAN FLIERS FETED.

Copenhagen paid tribute when Holger Høhris and Otto Hillig, arrived after crossing the Atlantic in a flight which immediately followed the take off of Post and Gatty. Høhris and Hillig landed in Germany, but went on immediately to Copenhagen, where a great official reception was prepared for them. They are shown, flower garlanded, in a car leaving the flying field.

test. The whole course entailed the encircling of the Island, and the negotiating of the most difficult and perilous roads and paths in the Colony.

Marshals and secret checkers at various points of the course, clocked the competitors, and at the same time noted if they indulged in any foot-slogging, front wheel stops, engine stalls, or if any competitor was obstructed. The indulgence in any of these meant loss of marks, as did the arrival before or after time at any of the observed or secret checks.

On the first lap, a few competitors succeeded in checking in at the checks dead on time, and the majority achieved a similar result with the last lap, but on the second and third, practically all the riders were well behind time, either through misman-aging the way, or as the result of accidents.

There was a pretty good thinning out of riders at the close of the third lap, Carvalho, Ribeiro, P. O. Marshall, Y. V. Segalen, J. Dewry, W. B.
Wishaw (though not checked in at Repulse Bay), G. A. Carruthers, and Chao Hing-ki, all failing to line up for the fourth and final lap.

Order of Finishing.

The actual order of finishing was:
1. B. S. Rogers (A.J.S. 8.45-42 p.m.);
2. T. H. Chun (H. Davidson); 3. P. A. Silva;
4. P. M. F. Rosario; 5. J. Smith; 6. Henry Kew; 7. H. Muller; 8. E. W. Tape;
9. W. E. Peers; 10. G. W. Brand;
11. E. J. Speirs; 12. E. H. Marriott;
13. J. P. White; 14. A. McG. Mitchell;
15. H. Muller; 16. P. O. Marshall;
17. A. Gascon; 18. J. R. Canning;
19. J. H. E. Edwards; 20. C.
G. Fownier; 21. W. A. Shea; 22. J.
Kotewall; 23. K. C. Hamilton; 24.
Cheng Yew; 25. Ho So; 26. H. G.
Kew; 27. J. R. Canning; 28. E.
Frank; 29. D. Davies; 30. E. J.
Groome.

The success of the event, although largely contributed to by the excellent entry and the enthusiasm of the competitors, mainly depended upon the organization, and in this respect
Mr. H. G. Williams, his committee and fellow helpers did everything that could be required. Every official, whether marshal, steward, or checker, worked untiringly, and to them all must go the chief credit for the remarkable success which attended the trial.

Mr. Williams, as Chairman of the committee, did everything in his power to this end, and others who played their part in the organization were—Mr. B. S. Rogers (Hon.
Treasurer), Messrs. S. Ashworth, C.
W. Brand, P. P. Franklin, A. Gascon,
E. L. Groome, and K. C. Hamilton (Committee), Messrs. A. J. Bird, A.
Cox, Stephen Thompson, E. D. de
Bruce, P. E. Barker, S. A. Gray, L.
M. James, J. Way, C. E. Gahan, and Dr. J. A. R. Selby (Marshals and checkers).

The Police Traffic Department, under the direction of Inspector Alexander, also rendered valuable assistance, while the St. John Ambulance Brigade were in attendance in case of need.

NORTHERN WAR.

A COMPLETE MUKDEN
VICTORY CLAIMED.

Peking, Aug. 3.
The war with Gen. Shih Yu-shan appears to be practically over.
The Mukden forces have dispersed Shih Yu-shan's troops, who are fleeing towards Shantung.

Shih Yu-shan is reported to have placed himself in the hands of Han Fu-chu, and to have requested a safe conduct abroad.

The Mukden forces have advanced south of Tingchow, while the co-operating Shansi troops are holding Chengtingfu. The through railway service is expected to resume very shortly.—Reuter.

Enemy Pursued.

Peking, Aug. 3.
Gen. Shang Chen's troops arrived at Shihchiachuang on July 30, and part of his troops are now advancing towards Wuki and Kaocheng.

The Southern Route Army is pursuing the enemy at Nankung, Ki-chow and Hengshui, and some of the enemy's forces have fled to Shantung for refuge.

All available boats on the Puto river have been taken by Government troops, and the enemy will not be able to cross the river, which is more than eight feet deep.
Gen. Yu Hsieh-zung is directing the 1st Route Army Corps towards Tingchow, where armoured cars belonging to the Government have arrived. The whole aerial force has been despatched to the front.—Reuter.

YOUR CHILDREN.

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

I told a mother the other day that if her child had been trained to obedience in his first year, she wouldn't have to spank him now.
She resented it thoroughly.

"Will you please tell me," she asked coldly, with the accent on the "me," "how on earth you can train a baby to mind in his first year?"

Then, to mollify her a bit, I admitted that it was perfectly easy, in theory, but that in practice it was frequently a different matter.
As it happened, my own children were of the type easily taught and deliberate disobedience was a rare thing in our house.

But there are children and children, and there are houses and houses. No two children have the same disposition and family life differs.

There is one little thing, however, that governs nearly all obedience and that is the mother's own state of mind regarding it. When a baby is very small she must adopt an attitude of expectancy;

that is, she must cast aside all doubts that she is to be obeyed and take it for granted that her we-son or daughter will do as she says.

Tone Is Important.

Her tone should be quiet and kind, but firm—I mean business-like. When she says "no-no," the baby will understand at nine months perfectly well what that means. He may not appear to notice but his mentality is far enough advanced by that time to react to a negative command.

If she says "no-no," and lets him go on and bang his bottle on his bed for five minutes and then comes back with another "no-no," that sounds only like trickling water to his quick ears, she has lost the first innings. Of course, it takes work, patience, and repetition, but at the minute she speaks she should get attention. Multiply these little lessons by a dozen and you have the first buds of obedience.

Later when you call him, that is in his toddling days, see that he comes to you at once. Tone will do it more than the command itself.

A little child can be eased into the habit of obedience then, while he isn't old enough to reason why he shouldn't do as he's told, far better than he can later on. Later his desire to do as he chooses gives him grounds for resistance. He won't always be able to see justice in a command and then he will rebel.

Never let one time go. See that he does what you tell him when you tell him. Those tiny episodes of babyhood are so important!

RED-ROOM BOOK-ENDS.

Book-ends for the bed-room would please a child when they are made of China to represent a dog or a cat; these novelties serve two purposes, for when the head of the animal is removed a receptacle is revealed to hold bath salts.

FASHION NOTES.

The Empire Waistline.

Dignity and distinct individuality mark all the new clothes this season. The most outstanding note is the definite endorsement of the Empire waistline, which is strongly in evidence in day-time clothes, suits, afternoon dresses, and evening gowns. Naturally, this feeling for the Empire period has resulted in somewhat longer skirts than heretofore.

Sports and day-time dresses are about ten inches from the floor, afternoon dresses and ensembles rarely more than eight inches from the floor, and sometimes even longer, while evening dresses usually sweep the floor in the back.

Another interesting detail is the number of old-fashioned, demure effects in both day-time and dinner dresses. Snugly-fitted bodices, and fuller skirts, often with rows and rows of narrow lace ruffles, are a feature of this type of costume.

If dresses of this kind have sleeves, they are usually fitted snug-gly at the top, with fullness gathered on, mid-way between the elbow and the shoulder.

Diaphanous materials are important for evening, although a good deal of satin is also in evidence.
Skirts of most of the evening gowns are full, but a few models have tight foundations, with flounces added to the skirt to give grace.

ROAD POLICY.

Whilst there is not the slightest doubt that there is ample scope in the Old Country for cutting down much needless national expenditure, the report of the Committee which has been dealing with this matter leaves us with an impression of the danger of panic remedies in times of depression. That is a danger to which Hongkong is at present also exposed. Whatever else must go by the board, there can be no justification for impairing efficiency. We fear, however, that both at Home and here in Hongkong this is just what may easily happen. Locally, the Retrenchment Committee has long since presented its report, but, for reasons which we cannot fathom, its recommendations have not been made public; they are known only to the Government, which seemingly prefers to keep the proposals to itself. Not so in the case of the Committee which has been investigating the possibilities of economy in the Old Country. Thus we have a situation which makes it possible for the Hongkong newspapers to give the Home Committee's recommendations in detail, but to be unable to give even an inkling of what the local investigators have urged. At Home, it is recognised that the public has a right to know these things; here in Hongkong, we are merely told just as much as the Government thinks it is good for us to know.

There is one item in the Home Committee's report which is deserving of notice because the point dealt with has some local application. We refer to the suggested saving of nearly eight millions sterling by the postponement and slowing down of road schemes, and the lowering of the present high standard of maintenance. This is one of the proposals which, we imagine, will arouse considerable opposition, especially on the part of motorists who contribute so much to the nation's internal revenue. Leaving aside the Home issue, however, it would be interesting to know what our own Retrenchment Committee has advocated in the matter of road construction and maintenance. This Colony can certainly pride itself on its magnificent motor roads, which are almost invariably the subject of commendation by visitors to our shores. If, however, we ponder the matter, we should probably reach the conclusion that a very great deal of the money which has been spent on these roads might easily have been put to better advantage. In the days when everything seemed to be booming, we appear to have thought more of laying down motor roads, many of them being really luxury expenditure, than of spending our revenues on the essentials. This will explain why to-day the Colony lacks a modern prison, adequate hospitals and anything like a satisfactory nylum. In saying so much, we do not wish it to be inferred that we object to good roads; far from it—but we do say that in the provision of amenities, first things should come first. These provided, we should be justified in undertaking luxury projects if funds permitted.

But if the Colony may have been unwise in the allocation of its surpluses and spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on roads which could have waited for better times, that is no reason why we should neglect the proper upkeep of thoroughfares on which so much money has been laid out. If the proposals of the Home Committee are carried out, the present high standard of road maintenance in the Old Country will be lowered. That, in our opinion, would be a most regrettable policy. Yet it appears to be one which is at present being followed here in Hongkong. As our roads fall into disrepair, the authorities seem content with patching them up at as little cost as possible. So many evidences of this line of action can be seen in various parts of the Colony just now. Surely this is a most short-sighted policy, a classic example of false economy. Eventually, these roads will have to be taken properly in hand. The money now being spent on them is sheer waste in many instances. If we have a good thing, let us preserve it. To let it degenerate is altogether indefensible.

Slum Areas.

Hongkong is not the only place where, in building activity, such human considerations as the provision of open spaces and playing fields is overlooked, by Government (principally) and speculator alike. Herr Rosenbauer, a distinguished architect, who has built thousands of workmen's flats in Vienna, has recently inspected many of the crowded slum areas in England and Scotland. Naturally, he believes with the present government that no effort should be spared to clear them away. As to the future residence of the people living in these slums, the advice he offers is that the population should not be transplanted to new houses in the suburbs, but should be accommodated in special 12-to-20 storeyed blocks of flats in the heart of the city. He suggests that town planners should not take the town into the country, but should bring the country into the town. When the pressure of population in a given area becomes too great obviously there are two methods of relief. It may expand outward, or it may expand upward. But population may be of two kinds—a day-time population working in offices, and a night-time population sleeping at home. The problems for the two are not the same. For the former it may be, and often is, of first-rate importance that it should be close to the great banking, shipping and commercial centres. Sometimes natural features impose further limitations, New York, for instance, being on an island, and Vienna as Herr Rosenbauer says, having "a kind of belt round the city which prevents building outward." Generally speaking, however, the needs of a residential population are quite different from those of the same people in their working hours. Fresh sweet air, as far as possible, is desirable. Leisure moments should be provided for. Easy access to open spaces, parks and playing grounds, and so on, should be regarded as a first

THE SOVIET FIVE YEAR PLAN.Smash It or It WillBy
COLLINSON OWEN. Smash Us.

THIS is an article designed to make your flesh creep. The more it creeps the better for the future of Britain.

Sitting at a dinner-table for two somewhere in London I discussed with a considerable Personage the outstanding political question of the day, which, in his opinion and in mine, is Russia. What the nationality or calling of the Personage is does not matter. It is sufficient to say that he is well placed to take what one may call a mountain summit view of Bolshevism and its possible effects on the future of us all.

"Some people in England," he was saying, "have shown a certain indignation about a few thousand barrels of dumped butter, a few thousand tons of dumped wheat, or timber."

"But indignation is not enough. If you are indignant with a footpad it merely provides him with a pleasant apocryphal story. The only way to make the criminally minded respect you is to deal with them with all the rigour in your power."

A Sleeping World.

"The world has not yet begun to grasp the reality of this Bolshevik attack on civilisation. It is sweeping, grandiose."

"Here and there an individual has some real conception of what it may mean. But for the most part the world is sleeping."

"If it is possible to admire the assassin, if there is any virtue in being the perfect confidence trickster, then we must admire the relatively few men who are now organising 150 millions of deluded people to assassinate the rest of the world. We must admire them for their colossal insolence. They are doing it under our noses. We watch them making all their arrangements—their Five-Year Plans, for instance. Yet the world remains almost unmoved."

"Here in England I find people indifferent, even sympathetic. People of a type one would never dream could be so blind, so stupid. How do you account for that?"

The Crank Mind.

"It is the crank mind," I replied, "and that nobody can account for. The crank mind defies all argument, all reason, all facts. These people are political perverts. They smile at you pityingly if you mention the Russian record of massacre. But they would shudder with anger and disgust if a London policeman put his boot behind them, just because he felt like it. That would be a gross tyranny."

"That is so. And you find these political perverts in all countries. But the people I am most concerned about now are the great mass of ordinary, normal people, who have not yet awakened to what the future holds for them if we don't better ourselves. They have no conception of the magnitude of the danger that menaces them. It is time somebody tried to awaken them."

"This thing must be thought of in terms even bigger than those of the Great War. This is a world war, and in varying degrees it is going on all the time."

"Get up, you blighter—there ain't no room here!"

everywhere, from China to Alaska. And what we have seen so far are the merest preliminary skirmishes.

"It is a war that is not being waged with bayonets, yet. Ideas are doing it. They are insane ideas. They laugh at all decency and honour. They exalt a code of morals between nations which not even a pickpocket would apply to his friends. They exalt the diplomacy of the ape, the cave-man. But we see how powerful they are."

The Wreckers.

"This Five-Year Plan, for instance. It would be Russia's affair alone if it were merely designed to galvanise an inert, semi-barbaric nation into one highly industrialised, proposing to compete in the world's markets according to the accepted colonial or less."

"But the whole purpose of the Five-Year Plan is to wreck the rest of the world. It is not for Russia, but against us. It can only be thought of because a vast, mutton-headed population can be whipped into slavery by these modern Pharaohs."

"Take this preliminary dumping—butter, wheat, timber, and so on. These operations are merely feelers. They are small laboratory experiments; trench raids, if you like, to teach them how to conduct mass attacks later."

"Did you hear of their eau-de-Cologne experiment? Russia dumped eau-de-Cologne, even into Germany, at prices which ruined some of the smaller distillers, and left some of the leading firms badly shaken. Having caused complete local disruption, Russian interest in the eau-de-Cologne market evaporated. It was an experiment."

"They had for a time overturned a market by what we may call a very small swing of the trade pendulum. They learned by it. So they are learning by similar dumping raids on England. The day will come—if we let it—when they will swing the pendulum violently, and markets will come crashing down."

Action Needed.

"When they are really ready for our destruction tariff walls will not count. They will throw their goods in at no price, at all, if necessary. They will invade markets, not to capture them, but to destroy them. Money, as we think of it, means nothing to them in such operations. They are out to smash. Their people are being starved and dragooned to destroy us."

"The world will only save itself if we think as boldly in defence. All this, by the way, has little to do with the world trade depression. It is as though a trader whose business is bad, anyhow, has to operate in a bandit-infested country. This will be the banditry of 150 million people organised for nothing else."

"Indignation over all this is merely a waste of nervous force. Action, combined action, is needed. The nations will have to combine to prevent themselves from being overwhelmed by the most subtle dangerous attack on civilisation in the world's history."

"It is useless for the leaders of the Churches to address mass meetings at the Albert Hall because the Soviets wipe out religion, or wipe out Christians. You might as well reproach Al Capone for having a guy bumped off. To them an indignant bishop is not even a figure of contempt. He is nothing. We are dealing with people who are drunk with a cruel idea, who are ruthless, who have the mentality of the crook. A crook State. And we send finished diplomats to deal with them. The British Ambassador at Moscow dines out officially, and finds his own Embassy's stolen plate gracing the table. Could anything surpass that? And this in a country which has recently stolen the Lena goldfields, a British enterprise worth $13,000,000."

Prohibition.

"When the British Foreign Secretary had a secret conference with a Soviet envoy in an old-fashioned Sussex hotel he ought to have felt that he had been in contact with pollution. Apparently that didn't occur to Uncle Arthur Henderson."

"Politics," I said. "In its name men will do anything."

"True. But one can be a socialist and yet not seek the company of crooks."

"We must combine or be overwhelmed. Twelve apostles spread Christianity through the world. The apostles were bold."

JUNK FOUNDERS
IN TYPHOON.CONSEQUENCE OF DELAY
BY CUSTOMS.

NO LIVES LOST.

A report of the foundering of a cargo junk during the typhoon was made at the Harbour office this morning by the master, Leung Ming-lee.

He stated that the junk, No. T 330 H, left Santong, on the East River District, on Saturday, bound for Hongkong. The cargo carried comprised 50,000 red bricks and tiles, and the consignee was Wing Fung-loong, of No. 12, Gresson Street, Hongkong.

The junk arrived at Taisan Customs about 5 p.m. on the same day and the following morning he sent to the Customs office to obtain a clearance. He asked for special permission to clear at once as the typhoon was approaching, but this was refused, the junk not being allowed to leave until it had been boarded and searched. This was not completed until ten o'clock. By that time the gale had increased.

Although they had four anchors down the junk foundered at 12.30 p.m. There were no casualties, but his father received an injury to his leg through being crashed by a lifeboat.

The value of the junk is estimated at $5,000, and the cargo at $3,000. It is hoped to salvage the junk and the cargo in more favourable weather.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN
RELATIONS.THE TRADE BAN NOW REMOVED.

Paris, July 24. By the suppression of restrictive licences decreed by the French Government and the abrogation by the Government of the United States of the decree suspending all orders and purchases in France, Franco-Russian relations have taken a favourable turn.

M. Francois Marshal, in Actualities, announces that the commercial negotiations now being pursued, parallel with a Non-Aggression Pact, will be followed by a conference which will consider the problem of pre-war Russian debts. —Indopacific.

ANNAM REBELS
KILLED.SANGUINARY BATTLE WITH TROOPS.

Hanoi, July 25. Eight rebels were killed and over 40 wounded in a sanguinary engagement with the military post at Bongson, in Central Annam.

The insurgents, who were armed only with sticks and lances, hurled themselves unavailingly against the military positions, being finally flung back and dispersed before concentrated machine-gun and rifle fire. —Indopacific.

SYRIAN STABS
CONSUL.FRENCH OFFICIAL ATTACKED
IN LONDON.

London, July 21. A Syrian, named Choubaje, who arrived here two days ago, from France, called at the French Consulate-General here and asked the Vice Consul for assistance, which was refused.

The Syrian, drawing a small knife and attacking the Consul, struck him several blows with it. Though admitted into hospital, the condition of the Consul is not considered serious. What happened to the assailant is not stated. —Indopacific.

PACIFIC FLIERS FAIL AGAIN.

Making their second attempt to win the prize of $25,000 offered for a nonstop flight from the United States to Japan, Reginald Robbins (right) and H. S. Jones, again failed, being forced to descend in their plane, also shown above, at Fairbanks, Alaska.

THE PUBLIC GARDENS

Samehurn, and the police at Canton and Macao were asked to institute a search, in their territory which they did, without finding any trace of the missing man.

False Hopes.

After the first notice, said Mr. Jenkin, information was received from certain persons that they had seen Mr. O'Sullivan, but, on investigation, the information was found to be incorrect.

Dealing with Dr. Ware's affidavit, Mr. Jenkin said the doctor discharged Mr. O'Sullivan from the Mental Hospital on February 13, 1923, as he did not constitute a danger, provided he was cared for, and the doctor considered he would be better off with his family. Mr. O'Sullivan was discharged into the care of his wife. After his discharge, Dr. Ware saw him several times, the last time being shortly before his disappearance.

Dr. Ware also stated Mr. O'Sullivan was not able to care for himself and must have succumbed shortly after his disappearance.

Insured for $1,000.

Commenting that Mr. O'Sullivan must have died, unless he had been kidnapped, or was being cared for in secrecy, counsel said that Mr. O'Sullivan was insured with the Manufacturers Life Insurance Company, and the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, for $500 in each case. Messrs. Donsons, solicitors for Mrs. O'Sullivan, had communicated with both companies, the replies indicating that they were prepared to pay as soon as proof of death was received.

Mr. Jenkin said 15 months had elapsed since Mr. O'Sullivan's disappearance, and if his Lordship was satisfied that every clue had been investigated and everything done to trace him, he could grant the order.

His Lordship remarked that the period for disappearance on land was very short, but as he had no doubt about the matter he would grant the order.

WOMAN'S SUICIDE ATTEMPT.PREVENTED IN NICK OF TIME.

Walking into a building under construction at Village Road, Wong-nichong, a Chinese woman proceeded to hang herself with a piece of rope which she had brought with her and which she slung round an overhead girder.

Groans emitted during the process attracted the attention of a passer-by and the woman was rescued in the nick of time, but not before rather serious injuries were suffered.

The would-be suicide, it was afterwards disclosed, is a married woman, 28 years of age, living at 27, Shing Wo Street. Domestic trouble is believed to have been the motive. She is now at the Government Civil Hospital under medical attention.

WHY WORK?

INCOMES ASSURED BY THE STATE.

"The State had better give us all annuities, and then we shall have no work and no responsibilities," remarked the magistrates' clerk at Old Hill, Staffordshire, when in the course of a matrimonial case it was stated that in unemployment and other relief.

A young husband received 17s. and 2s. for a child, and 9s. for his widowed mother living with him.

The wife was in receipt of 15s. unemployment benefit, and the husband's mother had a pension of 15s.

The clerk said that it was "an appalling state of things."

PING PONG.

AN INTERPORT CHALLENGE
CUP DONATED.

Owing to the keen co-operation of the Committee of the Hongkong Ping Pong League, and with the kind support of many ping pong enthusiasts, the game is now becoming more popular than ever. Under the auspices of the Hongkong Ping Pong Association a triangular interport Ping Pong Match between Canton, Macao and Hongkong is to be arranged soon.

Recently, Mr. Ho Sai Lu, the Honorary President of the Ping Pong League, kindly consented to present a handsome silver challenge cup for the winners in memory of his father, the late Mr. Ho Chak Sang.

SMASH IT OR IT WILL SMASH US.

Violence can be counted by the hundred thousand, and they are breaching what amounts to a religion—a ghastly religion—with-out any spirituality. You find people babbling it even in May-fair. Weird young men who've been to Oxford, earnest young women who think they know. They would loathe a man who kicked a dog. They think it intellectual to be disciples of the ignorant crooks who sit in Moscow.

"There must be international prohibition—absolute prohibition of everything that comes out of Russia. They are trying to blow us up. We must strangle them. Russian goods must be regarded as pollution."

"Sooner or later we shall have to blockade them industrially. We are threatened by an entirely new conception of trade war. We can meet it only by means just as bold and ruthless."

"We must awaken the peoples to the enormity of what threatens us. That is the word. The enormity of permitting a crook State calmly to plot our destruction. It is the old story of the barbarian hordes from the north. Do you think the peoples can be awakened to the danger of it?"

"We can try," I said. "England may be too soft in the heart, but I don't think she is yet entirely soft in the head."

Anyhow, there's the situation: the swift growing of a menace that will certainly smash us if we don't smash it.

MURDER CHARGE.

ACCUSED MAN IN COURT.INQUEST OPENED AND ADJOURNED.

London, July 8. Arthur James Faraday Salvage, aged 23, a poultry dealer of Ruckinge, was charged with the murder of Ivy Mary Godden, aged 11, whose body was found buried in a wood half a mile from her home at Bromley Green, Ruckinge, Kent, at Ashford Police Court.

He was still wearing the blue blazer and flannels in which he was dressed at cricket just before his arrest. He is a tall, sun-burnt youth.

The only witness was Detective-Superintendent Avery, who described his visit to Salvage's home, and the arrest.

Salvage was then remanded in custody.

It was stated that Salvage had declined legal aid, but that a solicitor, Mr. Henry Flint, had offered his services, and that he had been engaged by Mrs. Salvage, the prisoner's mother.

The Inquest.

The inquest was opened later in the day in the mission hall at Ruckinge.

With the Coroner, Colonel Harold Body, Mr. J. E. Chapple sat as an assessor, this procedure being peculiar to Romney Marshes and a relic of the Cinque Port days.

Mr. John Godden stated that the girl, his niece, had good health. She was quiet and was always happy.

"About 10.45 p.m. on Friday," said Mr. Godden, "my brother informed me that she was missing. I got up and went in search of her all night."

He described the finding of the body in some freshly-dug ground in some woods.

"I went down on my knees," he said, "and opened the ground with my hands. I found a piece of sucking, which I cut open with a knife. Then I found a piece of brown silk. I cut again and found white cloth. We then decided to call the police."

Cause of Death.

Dr. James D. Gray, of Ashford, said that on arriving at Ruckinge he was directed to a lonely spot in the wood. There he saw a piece of freshly dug ground covered with withered shrubs and grass. Through an opening in the ground he saw a piece of sucking inside of which was a body.

"The body was dug up in my presence," added the doctor. "It was completely enveloped in sucking, was lying on its left side, and was trussed with a rope. The rope was looped round both ankles and coiled three times round the neck where it was tied. The body was discoloured and partly dressed."

Dr. Gray said that there was much bruising, with considerable swelling, below and behind the left ear. There was considerable bruising on the chin and in the region below the chin, and there was a circular bruise and impression over the Adam's apple which encircled the neck and corresponded with the three layers of rope which had been found. There was no blood or apparent blood on the hair, and there was no abrasion of the skin.

He formed the opinion from the external examination that death had probably taken place within the previous 36 or 40 hours.

At the Ashford Hospital mortuary on Monday he was present when Sir Bernard Spillbury conducted a post-mortem examination of the body. As a result of what he saw he came to the conclusion that death was due to severe shock caused by a severe blow behind the left ear, coupled with outrage.

The inquest was adjourned until October 6.

CEMENT EMPLOYEE
SENTENCED.FOURTEEN DAYS FOR THEFT OF DRILL.

A workman employed by the Green Island Cement Company was charged at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning with stealing a steel drill from the work yesterday.

The prosecuting officer said it was suspected that various tools had been stolen from the works of the Company. Yesterday, a surprise search was carried out during the tiffin hour, and the defendant was found with the drill on him.

An official of the Company told his Worship that the tool was worth about $2.

It was mentioned that the defendant was apparently a respectable worker until this lapse, and a number of his fellow-workmen had been up to the station to inquire about him.

His Worship—Let this be a lesson to you. I will not be too hard on you. Fourteen days.

RACING AT MACAO.

PREDICTED REVIVAL OF FORMER POPULARITY.

Macao, Aug. 2.
In anticipation of the pony racing which is advertised to take place at Macao on September 4 and 5, considerable work has been done at the Macao race course, which has assumed a business-like appearance again. Under the management of Mr. W. L. Gerard, whose experience of horse racing at Shanghai and elsewhere in the Far East makes him a valuable acquisition by the Macao Jockey Club, the track is quickly getting into shape and it will not be long before racing resumes the popularity it enjoyed in the past few years at Macao.

A large number of ponies are here for the summer rest, and will probably take part in the racing. In addition to several ponies from Hongkong. Besides these probable entries, the Macao Jockey Club has secured a number of ponies from Shanghai which will be drawn for by owners and be considered Macao subs. As such there will probably be special races for these subs. Later further ponies will be acquired in the same manner.

A new stand for weighing, apart from the present stands, is being built, and will relieve the congestion which used to be so noticed in the past. In addition to this feature, other improvements in accommodation have been made.

GOLF as the STARS play it

Why must tight wrists be avoided in the golf swing?

Tight wrists are disastrous to the golf swing. It is impossible to cock the wrists at the top of the backswing with the club held in a deathlike grip, yet it is well to remember that the club must be held firmly. Without cocking the wrists at the top of the backswing no punch or power can be administered to the ball at impact. Tight wrists tense the muscles of the right side in the downswing, causing one to lunge at the ball.

While on the subject of the wrists, I might say that many golfers uncock their wrists too soon in the downswing, spending the punch and power long before the club is in a position to hit. Study the illustration of young Horton Smith, notice the short distance the clubhead has travelled in comparison with the hands from the top of the backswing. It is here that the uncocking of the wrists takes place, the right

SHANGHAI CHAMPIONS

DETAILS OF SWEEP DRAWING PLAN.

Complete revision of the present method of drawing the Champions Sweep, largest cash sweepstake conducted in the Far East, is promised by the stewards of the Shanghai Race Club, in a circular just issued to members of the club, says the Shanghai Times. The new system, which ensures a wider distribution of the million or more dollars subscribed twice yearly by Shanghai and outport residents, is expected to come into effect with the forthcoming Autumn Race Meeting, the first week in November.

The popularity of the Irish Free State hospital sweep, the Calcutta Sweep, Australian Tattersall's and other world-wide organizations which have found that more people subscribe when more prizes are promised, may have had something to do with the decision of the Race Club stewards for, according to the new system to be introduced, there will be more than 800 prizes distributed, ranging from $120,000 to $500.

The old system of having "A" and "B" sweeps is to be abolished, and in its place one huge sweep—consisting of 125,000 tickets at $10 each, will be conducted.

Stewards' Rights. Subscription lists will be supplied to members of the Race Club as before, and members will be required to sign their names against numbers stated therein, but the Stewards reserve the right to refuse any subscription as well as the right to remove any member's name from subscription lists.

Another important change brought about by the new system will be the total suspension of the issuance of tickets. No tickets will be issued, the circular states in emphatic print.

Conditions governing the sweep are as follows:—Twenty per cent. of the total sweepstakes will be deducted as commission. From the remainder, 40 per cent. will be deducted for the purposes of prizes to drawers of unplaced qualified ponies and to drawers

GOLFING PRODIGY.

EX-SHANGHAI BOY WINS IN AUSTRALIA.

Golfers in the Far East generally will be interested to learn of the further success in Sydney of the 16-year-old son of Mr. Jim Ferrier, who was one of Shanghai's outstanding golfers, and who has more than once visited Hongkong to play in Interport contests.

Playing in the final of the Amateur Golf Championship of New South Wales, young Jim Ferrier beat E. L. Apperly, who has been five times champion. The match, which was watched by an enormous crowd of 5,000, was in the balance to the last green. It was a thrilling match throughout, and both players were in exceptional form.

Faced with the task of sinking an 8ft. putt on the 36th green to win, Ferrier put to the occasion in magnificent style. Ringed in by a circle of excited faces, the boy calmly studied the lie of the ground, stood erect, putted smoothly, and as the ball gurgled in the tin, the putt was hailed with an outburst of applause. Both were cheered by excited friends. Ferrier had looked like winning the game earlier, as he was downy three, but the "old war horse," as Apperly is popularly known, staged a characteristic finish, winning the next two holes, and then being within four inches of winning the last hole. Apperly made many mistakes, particularly on the green. On a couple of occasions he missed 2ft. putts, and strange as it may appear, he showed more signs of strain than his younger rival.

During the first round of the Schmeling Stribling title bout, the men sparred and flicked light blows to the head, each trying to feel out his opponent. At the moment photo was snapped in the Cleveland Stadium, the champion had straightened up.

of unqualified entered ponies; 40 per cent. of the sum so deducted will be divided between drawers of unplaced qualified ponies (i.e. ponies which become eligible for the Champions according to the conditions of that race whether they start or not), and 60 per cent. of the sum so deducted will be divided between drawers of unqualified entered ponies (i.e. all ponies entered for the Autumn Meeting excluding qualified ponies and those ponies entered for the Grand National Steeplechase).

After providing for the above commissions and prizes, the balance will be divided as follows:—First prize 70 per cent.; second prize 20 per cent.; third prize 10 per cent.

Prizes Duplicated.

All prizes will be duplicated, i.e. every pony will be drawn by two sweep numbers, thereby giving two first prizes, two second prizes and two third prizes, two each of unplaced qualified pony prizes and two each of unqualified entered pony prizes.

It is emphasized that a sweep number is entitled to one prize only and after drawing a pony a number will be deemed cancelled. Should there be less than three placed ponies the sum allocated for first, second and third prizes will be divided as stated in Rule 2 of the rules governing Members' Cash Sweeps, 2nd half, 1931.

In the event of all 125,000 tickets being sold, the prizes will be as follows:

Two—1st prizes of $210,000.
Two—2nd prizes of $80,000.
Two—3rd prizes of $30,000.
120 prizes of about $1,250.
500 prizes of about $500.

Rules governing the sweep, payment of prizes, etc., remain as for previous sweeps. hand comes into use, whipping the club through the air.

SHIH'S DEFEAT EXPLAINED.

SHANSI-MUKDEN WAR POSSIBLE.

LATEST INDICATION.

Shanghai, Aug. 4.
The complete elimination of General Shih Yu-shan and the occupation of Southern Chihli and parts of Honan by Shansi troops under General Shang Chen is predicted following the smashing Manchurian victory over General Shih near Pootungfu and the Shansi occupation of Shihchichuang and Chentung.

General Shih's defeat is attributed to co-operation between the Manchurian, Nanking and Shansi forces.

A success by General Shih depended largely on the prompt capture of Pootungfu, but this was frustrated by the sudden mobilization of the thousand of Shansi troops whose allegiance General Shih hoped to win over at an early stage of the war.

Japanese sources state that the Shansi victory over General Shih will precipitate a war between the Shansi and the Manchurian Governments for the control of Chihli Province, as the Shansi Commanders see in the elimination of General Shih an opportunity to extend their sphere of influence to Peking and Tientsin.

General Shih is retreating from the Peking-Hankow Railway to Shantung where he will seek the support of his former colleague, General Han Fu-chu, the Military Governor of Shantung.—Reynolds.
